BCP MISSION

The Board of Certified Psychometrists provides Board level certification for the profession of psychometry. By successfully completing a rigorous and comprehensive examination, Board Certified Specialists in Psychometry demonstrate the knowledge, experience, and ongoing education to administer and score psychometric measures, thereby setting the gold standard on which clinicians rely. We are dedicated to promoting and protecting the value of the Specialist in Psychometry Certification.

"Having a set standard is integral to best practice in any profession. The CSP sets the bar at a time when the field appears to be expanding. Earning this certification demonstrates my commitment to the highest possible standard and will increase my marketability as the field continues to grow."

Julia Biars, MA, CSP
ABOUT THE CSP
The Board of Certified Psychometrists (BCP) is an independent organization with the mission to provide Board level Certification for the profession of Psychometry (CSP).

The CSP credential is the only North American qualification conferred to those professional Psychometrists who have successfully met the standards of this certification.

Psychometrists administer and score neuropsychological, psychological, personality and academic tests. Certification signifies a professional level of practice by objectively and quantitatively defining the gold standard of competency and knowledge on which clinicians rely and that is necessary to function as a Psychometrist.

The CSP exam is in compliance with the standards for educational and psychological tests published jointly by the American Educational Research Association, The National Council for Measurements in Education, and the American Psychological Association. The CSP exam was developed in the same method as other professional credentials such as the EPPP and ABPP.

Requirements to Sit for the CSP Exam

- Minimum of a Bachelor’s degree
- 2000-3000 hours of psychological testing experience
- Verification of professional experience by a licensed Psychologist or equivalent

Benefits of Obtaining the CSP Designation

- Authentication & assessment of practice-based knowledge by an independent organization
- Ensures the highest standard for professional services
- Enhanced professional credibility and recognition
- Ability to negotiate improved compensation
- Professional growth and development
- Superior job/career opportunities
- Advanced professional responsibility and visibility
- Secures standards developed by Psychometrists
- Supports the promotion of Psychometry as a profession
- Online verification of certification

Despite my experience, history and references, the certification in particular is what set me apart and got me the job.
Kate Coriano, CSP